Memorandum 1:

Being incarcerated thirty four months have taught me habilitation in criminal thinking and behavior, fundamental changes in my thinking and able to function responsibly. I've learned not only to think before I act but also developed an awareness of what I am thinking so that I can evaluate it immediately, new corrective thinking. Incarceration brought positive motivation for me to change, I no longer indulge in blaming others or wallow in self pity, learned to cope constructively with life when things do not go as planned. I do not wish to repeat the same consequences. Since my mental health treatment I learned to deal with my childhood experiences and now I use it as a benefit. I have learned to accept and move forward. I've come to reality and understand material objects does not show love to your children being with them is more important. I've learned how to tell my children no! without being afraid and it's all right to wait for things through my parenting class I completed while incarcerated. I am sincere and apologize to everyone involved, the victims, the financial institutions my family and the judicial system. I committed my federal crime at the same time as my state crime at the same frame of mind, I was only indicted on August 23, 2006. I thought I was going home on July 21, 2007 after completing three years, so I began to take measurements so I will not return to criminal thoughts or activities and stay out of Prison Jails by seeking mental health treatment, self-development and improvement, made responsible use of available rehabilitative programs and addressed identified treatment needs. I've reconciled my marriage and will be living in Tulsa Oklahoma. Tulsa is a different environment from where I got into trouble writing checks. I've gained both my husband and my family's trust back. I have a renewed mind and attitude due to my incarceration of thirty-four months. I can obtain a full-time career, my husband has been employed with the same company eleven years, I am willing to do community service and be a modeled citizen. I am praying for grace, mercy and afrutity now that I have been rehabilitated during my thirty-four months of incarceration and able to allow my children to enjoy having both parents under one roof.
